

Text: Harcourt's "Horizons: About My World"

Students will learn about people and places in the community and how to be a good citizen. Students will explore other cultures. They will discover the different types of land and water and natural resources. They will learn how they relate to the world and their responsibility to it.